Anjela Changmai: The Flame of a New Dawn

(A tribute to Anjela Changmai — the radiant voice of Assam’s youth and culture)

■ Heramba Nath

In the land where the Brahmaputra flows,
Where silken muga and jasmine grows,
Rose a soul both fierce and fair,
Anjela Changmai, beyond compare.
Not just a name, but a rhythm, a fire,
A voice that lifts, a heart that inspires.
She speaks—and silence learns to listen,
Her words like stars in twilight glisten.
A youth speaker with vision wide,
With purpose strong and head held high.
She walks where many fear to tread,
Her words ignite the paths ahead.
She speaks of dreams, of strength, of light,
Of breaking chains, of claiming right.
In halls, in fields, in minds, in air,
Her voice—a banner bright and rare.
Her speaking style—a rarest art,
It captivates both mind and heart.
I do not tire, I do not stray,
When Anjela speaks, I gladly stay.
It is as if Goddess Saraswati reigns
In her voice—a sacred strain.
She also has a smile serene,
And every speech—a living dream.
May wise, inquisitive speeches shine
Like pole stars in the night divine.
That’s what I wish to God above—
To guard her path with light and love.
She is the mirror of youthful might,
A reporter chasing truth and light.
With pen and mic, she paints each scene—
From whispered truths to moments unseen.
Her questions pierce, her stories sing,
A journalist with an eagle’s wing.
To Assam’s youth, she brings new scope,
She teaches them to strive and hope.
But she’s not only words and news,
She dances too, in sacred hues.
A flame of Sankari culture’s grace,
In Sattriya steps, she finds her place.
A classical fire in every turn,
Where ancient rhythms softly burn.
A living thread of art refined,
She keeps tradition well-aligned.
Her voice—a melody rich and deep,
That stirs the soul from silent sleep.
A singer, poet in tone and rhyme,
Her music flows beyond all time.
Yet what makes her truly rare—
Is not just talent, charm, or flair.
It is her truth, her fearless part,
Her kindness wrapped in a warrior’s heart.
She does not follow—she lights the way,
A torch in youthful hands today.
Anjela Changmai, a rising flame,
Etched in Assam’s hall of fame.
Unique in soul, in style, in grace,
With wisdom far beyond her place.
A daughter of this sacred land,
With fire in voice and truth in hand.

Faiza Rafath, BAMS
Sri Kalabyraveswara Swamy Ayurvedic Medical College Hospital and Research Centre, Bangalore

Uttara Basti is an Ayurvedic therapeutic practice primarily used to treat disorders related to the urinary system, reproductive health, and overall vitality. This procedure involves administering medicated liquids into the uterine cavity through the cervical canal in females, or into the urinary bladder through the urethra in both males and females, targeting the underlying pathology. It is indicated for genito-urinary disorders in both genders. The procedure is particularly chosen for treating various female disorders due to its superior qualities, hence it is referred to as Uttara Basti.

What is Uttara Basti?

Uttara Basti is a specialized form of Basti (enema therapy) which is helpful in treating the fertility issue of male as well as female. It is also helpful in many other Genito urinary conditions. It is a non invasive procedure which helps in restoring the reproductive health.

The treatment is typically used to treat conditions like:

- Infertility and reproductive disorders
- Urinary tract infections (UTIs)
- Prostate issues
- Impotence
- Menstrual disorders
- Chronic diseases affecting the

- reproductive organs
- Sexual dysfunction
- Dysmenorrhoea
- Amenorrhoea
- Dribbling of urine
- Retention of urine
- Pain during intercourse
- Painful menstruation

Procedure of Uttara BastiThe procedure of Uttara Basti varies depending on the specific condition being treated, but the general process includes the following steps:

Preparation of the Patient: The patient is first prepared by undergoing certain preparatory steps such as a detoxifying therapy, minimal investigations and local hygienic measures.

Selection of Medicinal Solutions: These treatments are chosen based on the individual's specific condition and the desired therapeutic effect. Specialist may also prescribe a combination of medications if needed. For instance, in cases of fallopian tube blockage, the doctor may opt for a medication with a scraping effect to help address the issue.

Administration of the Medicinal Solution: The medicinal liquid is introduced into the body through specific channels. For male patients, it is usually administered through the urethra (urinary passage), and for female patients, it may be introduced through cervical canal as well as urethra based on the condition. This is only done under strict medical supervision by experts.

Duration and Follow-Up: The treatment duration may vary depending on the individual case. But 3-5 consecutive days can be considered as ideal period. After the administration of the liquid, the patient is typically asked to rest for a while to allow the medicine to take effect. Patient can be sent home few hours after close monitoring.

Absolute contraindications: Pregnancy and presence of contraceptive device inside the uterine cavity.

Relative contraindications: Female genital infection , Cervical infection & inflammation, Endometritis, Endometriosis, Cervical cancer, and Endometrial cancer.

Benefits of Uttara Basti:It offers several potential benefits for the genito urinary system, especially when it comes to restoring balance to the urinary and reproductive systems. Some of the key benefits include:

Improvement in Urinary Health: By flushing out toxins from the urinary tract, Uttara Basti can help reduce the risk of urinary tract infections and improve bladder function. It is also helpful in the management of conditions like urinary retention, incontinence of urine, and prostate related issues specially in old age males.

Enhancement of Reproductive Health: Uttara Basti is often used to address male and female reproductive health issues. For women, it can help in regulating menstrual cycles, reducing menstrual cramps, rejuvenates endometrium & stimulates certain receptors, nourishes the ovum and helps in ovulation, scrapes out tubal block, and addressing conditions like leucorrhea. For men, it can improve semen quality, corrects different seminal pathology and enhance sexual health.

Detoxification: Detoxification therapy not only cleanses urinary and reproductive organs but also rejuvenates it. Thereby gives a healthy long reproductive life and reduces the chance of urinary problems.

Promotes Fertility: Uttara Basti is believed to have positive effects on fertility, especially in cases of unexplained infertility. By improving blood circulation, balancing hormones, and strengthening the reproductive organs, this therapy can enhance a person's ability to conceive.

Precautions and Considerations While Uttara Basti can be highly beneficial for both healthy as well as disease condition, it is essential to undergo this treatment under the supervision of a qualified Ayurvedic practitioner.

Uttara Basti is an advanced Ayurvedic treatment that focuses on the restoration of balance in the urinary and reproductive systems. Whether used for detoxification, fertility enhancement, sexual issues, or urinary problems, this therapy addresses a range of ailments while promoting well-being. It is important, however, that the treatment is carried out by a skilled practitioner to ensure safety and efficacy.

NFRSA win maiden Bordoloi Trophy title, NEUFC’s valiant effort fall short

Guwahati : North East Frontier Railway Sports Association (NFRSA) lifted their maiden Bordoloi Trophy title after a thrilling penalty shootout victory over NorthEast United FC (NEUFC) in the final at Judges Field here today. The match, witnessed good turnout, ended in a 1-1 draw after regulation and extra time before NFRSA triumphed 7-6 in the sudden death phase. This victory marked NFRSA’s second title of the season, following their earlier triumph in the Guwahati Premier League Football at the same venue. The final was an exciting contest with both teams showing their attacking prowess. NEUFC had the upper hand in the early stages, organizing more attacks, but as the match progressed, NFRSA gradually grew into the game. The first real scoring opportunity came in the 30th minute for NEUFC, when Hangshing made a brilliant run down the left wing and delivered a perfect pass. Despite a couple of NEUFC players in the box, none could connect with the ball to direct it towards goal. A few minutes later, NFRSA had a chance of their own when Akash Dutta found space in the box and unleashed a powerful shot. However, NEUFC’s goalkeeper, Arman Tamang, made an excellent save to deny the effort. After a goalless first half, NFRSA took the lead in the 51st minute through Souvik Kar. NFRSA earned a free kick just outside the box, and Kar’s expertly placed shot sailed past the goalkeeper into the net. NEUFC responded strongly and organized a series of attacks. Their efforts paid off in the 81st minute when Danny Meitei rose high to head in a cross from the right flank, levelling the score at 1-1. # Bismillah Khan

Ustad Bismillah Khan (born Qamaruddin Khan, 21 March 1916 – 21 August 2006), often referred to by the title Ustad, was an Indian musician credited with popularizing the shehnai, a reeded woodwind instrument. His virtuosity made him a leading Hindustani classical music artist, indelibly linking his name with the woodwind instrument. While the shehnai had importance as a folk instrument played primarily by musicians schooled in traditional ceremonies, Khan elevated its status and brought it to the concert stage. Khan was a devout Muslim but performed at both Hindu and Muslim ceremonies, and was considered a symbol of religious harmony. Owing to his fame, he was selected to perform for the ceremony at Delhi's historic Red Fort as the Indian flag unfurled at the hour of India's independence on 15 August 1947. His music was played (in Raag Kafi) on television every Independence Day. Khan turned down invitations to perform in other countries before 1966, when the Indian government insisted that he play at the Edinburgh International Festival.

This gained him a following in the West, and he continued to appear in Europe and North America thereafter. In 2001, Bismillah Khan was awarded the Bharat Ratna, India's highest civilian honour, and the country observed a national day of mourning following his death in 2006. He became the third classical musician of India after M. S. Subbalakshmi and Ravi Shankar to be awarded the Bharat Ratna.

Persional Life

Bismillah Khan was born on 21 March 1916 into a family of traditional Muslim musicians at the big town of Dumraon, India, as the second son of Paigambar Bux Khan and Mitthanbai. His father was a court musician employed in the court of Maharaja

Keshav Prasad Singh of Dumraon Raj. His two grandfathers Ustad Salar Hussain Khan and Rasool Bux Khan were also musicians in the Dumraon palace. He was named Qamruddin at birth, to rhyme with his elder brother's name Shamsuddin. Upon seeing the newborn, his grandfather Rasool Baksh Khan, also a shehnai player, is said to have exclaimed "Bismillah", or "In the name of Allah", and thereafter he came to be known by Ustad Bismillah Khan. At the age of three, he moved to Varanasi in the state of Uttar Pradesh, to be apprenticed to his maternal uncle, Ali Bux 'Vilayatu' Khan, a shehnai player attached to the Kashi Vishwanath Temple. At the age of 14, Bismillah accompanied his uncle to the Allahabad music conference. He used to practice with his shehnai on the banks of the river Ganga everyday. Bismillah Khan began his career by playing at various stage shows. He got his first major break in 1937, when he played at a concert at All India Music Conference in Kolkata or Calcutta. This performance brought Shehnai into the limelight and was hugely appreciated by music lovers. He then went on to play in many countries including Afghanistan, USA, Canada, Bangladesh, Iran, Iraq, West Africa, Japan, Hong Kong and in various parts of Europe. During his illustrious career he played in many prominent events throughout the world. Some of the events that he played in include World Exposition in Montreal, Cannes Art Festival and Osaka Trade Fair.

Legacy

Sangeet Natak Akademi, New Delhi, instituted the Ustad Bismillah Khan Yuva Puraskar in 2006, in his honour. It is given to young artists in the field of music, theatre and dance. The Government of Bihar has proposed setting up of a museum, a town hall-cum-library and installation of a life-size statue at his birthplace in Dumraon. Bismillah Khan was commemorated on his 102nd birth anniversary by Search Engine Google which showed a special doodle on its Indian home page for him on 21 March 2018. In the documentary film, Eric Clapton: Life in 12 Bars, Clapton cites Bismillah Khan as an influence and how he tried to use his guitar to imitate the music of Khan's woodwind instrument.

In popular culture

Khan had a brief association with films in India. He played the shehnai for Rajkumar's role of Appanna in the Vijay's Kannada-language film Sanaadi Appanna which became a blockbuster. He acted in Jalsaghar by Satyajit Ray and played the shehnai for Vijay Bhatt's Goonj Uthi Shehnai (1959). Noted director Goutam Ghose directed Sange Meel Se Mulaqat (1989), an Indian documentary film about the life of Khan. Imtiaz Ali's Rockstar character Ustad Jameel Khan played by Shammi Kapoor was slightly inspired by Khan. On 17 March 2006, Bismillah Khan's health deteriorated and he was admitted to the Heritage Hospital, Varanasi for treatment. Khan's last wish – to perform at India Gate, could not be fulfilled. He wanted to pay tributes to the martyrs. He waited in vain till his last rites. He died of cardiac arrest on 21 August 2006, at the age of 90. The Government of India declared a day of national mourning on his death. His body along with a Shehnai was buried at Fatemaan burial ground of old Varanasi under a neem tree with a 21-gun salute from the Indian Army.
